DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the Election/Restriction filed March 20, 2006. The Election/Restriction is acknowledged. Claims 1-22, 29-37 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-2, 4-10, 29-30, 32-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Helzerman (U.S. Patent No. 6, 901,372) in view Wright (US patent No. 6,581,040).

As per claims 1, 4-6, 29, 32-35, Helzerman discloses a method for developing and performing projects. In so doing, Helzerman discloses receiving the change proposal directed toward the project, the change proposal requesting at least one amendment to be performed to the project (receiving the project proposals, col. 4, lines 49-64), identifying, based on the at least one amendment request, at least one artifact of the project to be potentially affected upon the change proposal being adopted (col. 4, line 65 through col. 5, line 40), and generating at least one metric indicative of the potential effects on the project based on said identifying the at least one artifact (See Fig. 8, and col. 12, lines 59-66), the at least one metric providing an objective risk assessment to the client (col. 8, lines 11-28, and line 56-62).

Helzerman does not explicitly disclose the project being developed by the service provider such a contractor or a contractor. Wright in the same filed of endeavor discloses the concept of a project being developed by a service provider such as a contractor (col. 3, lines 57-64; col. 5, lines 1-16). It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the disclosures of Helzerman to incorporate a project being developed by a service provider as evidenced by Wright with the motivation to manage and monitoring construction project communications.

As per claims 2 and 30, Helzerman further discloses wherein the at least one metric includes a statistical value (col. 9, lines 57-64).

Regarding claims 7-8, 36-37 the claimed features are standard practice of in project development and management. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to include such features into Helzerman and Wright in order to allow for the timely and proper development and implementation of the project.

Claim 9 is a system for assessing risk on a project associated with a change proposal directed toward the project, the project being developed by a service provider for a client, said system comprising means for performing the steps of claim 1; therefore claim 9 is rejected under the same analysis relied upon of claim 1.

Claim 10 is a computer-readable medium having stored thereon sequences of instructions, the sequences of instructions, when executed by a processor, causes the processor to perform the steps of claim 1; therefore claim 10 is rejected under the same analysis relied upon of claim 1.

Art Unit: 3623

4. Claims 3 and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Helzerman (U.S. Patent No. 6, 901,372) in view Wright (US patent No. 6,581,040) and further in view of Ali et al (The Production of Accurate Construction Cost Estimates in Saudi Arabia)

As per claims 3, and 31 the combination of Helzerman and Wright fails to explicitly disclose wherein said generating includes performing a regression analysis. Ali et al in the same field of endeavor disclose the concept of performing a regression analysis in project management environment. Note Pages 2 and 3 of Ali et al. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the disclosures of Helzerman, Wright to include the teachings of Ali et al in order to estimate the total project cost from multiple parameters.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

a. Mora et al (U.S. Patent No. 6,161,113) disclose a computer-aided project notebook system.

b. Gundewar et al (US Patent No. 6,381,610) disclose an automated project planning method.

d. Freeman et al (US Patent No. 7,031,930) discloses a system for managing complex construction projects.
